

Chair massage is a wonderful addition to many environments. Think of adding chair massage as a perk for your employees. The therapist can be available to employees during their scheduled breaks or as your work day allows. Massage is also a welcome surprise to weary shoppers or tourists. Think of adding chair massage to your next seminar, trade show, meeting, health fair or other special event.

Chair massage can be set up anywhere. It doesn't require privacy, in fact, it's more fun to have it out in the open. People of generally interested in watching or asking a few questions before they give it a try. I'm happy to answer questions or pass out information to interested passersby. Or anywhere people need to take a few minutes to recuperate from their busy lives.

Whether at work or play, chair massage is a quick, convenient breather. You might schedule your first massage because of some pain or injury. But after experiencing massage, many people come back just because it makes them feel good

The client is seated in a massage chair, full clothed for a 5 to 20 minute massage. No oils or lotions are used. The equipment is minimal and the massage therapist can set up in an office, a break room, or anywhere people need to take a few minutes to recuperate from their busy lives.

A chair massage can last from 5 to 30 minutes at a cost of $1 per minute. For local clients I don't charge travel time. I will work days or evening, as suits your schedule. Special pricing is available for repeat customers and multi-day events.
